PROJECT EXPERIENCE

Ken Meekins
Project Manager

Ken is a Project Manager with AccuTech Construction and is laser-focused on meeting the overall project schedule by paying attention to the interim steps along the way. With 40 years of construction experience in shopping center and retail space, he has participated in several mega projects spanning the U.S. across 20 states from Union Station in Washington DC and Sherman Oaks Galleria in Los Angeles and others in between.

His original architectural education path led him to develop a passion for executing such projects while working as a developer, which has helped him focus on his client's real needs. As such, he is organized and a creative problem solver.

Outside of his project work, Ken enjoys boating and traveling.
